

The Incredible Journey

Sensational News Has Filled The Lives Of Seniors

It's pretty amazing what seniors have experienced during their lifetime. There have been horrible wars and interludes of peace. At times their world felt unbelievably safe. Yet during the era of fallout shelters, they feared the world might end with a touch of a button.

Seniors have lived through periods of unparalleled prosperity, as well as the economic collapse of the Depression and numerous recessions. They have seen their country go from isolationist to the global super power. And they have ridden the wave of scientific discovery from the beginning of powered flight to surfing the web.

Tom Brokaw calls seniors: The Greatest Generation. When you look at where they started and what they went through to get to today, you will probably agree with him. To provide a sense of their incredible journey, we have listed below some of the news headlines that seniors have read in their daily newspapers.

During their lifetime, when seniors opened their daily newspapers, they often read about remarkable events.
